

I want to express my feeling towards the KLove radio station. I listen to it whenever I drive to and from work, everyday. It is an encouraging Christian radio station that many of my Christian friends listen to and I see bumper stickers on cars all the time saying "KLove". If it were to be taken off the air I know a lot of Christians that would miss it and want it back. I feel like it would hurt people throughout the city of Denver that listen to it, including ministries that are reaching out to the community through activities and play the radio station on loud speakers. I feel like it's in the public's best interest to have KLove airing on the radio because there aren't many Christian radio stations. It's encouraging and uplifting to listen to it.
